NEGRO GIRL FATALLY SHOT

Was Handling A Loaded Gun
When It Went Off
Thursday.

DEATH SOON FOLLOWED

Coroner Holds Inquest And Decides Shot Was Accidental.

A negro girl named Lucy Leavell, aged 13, was fatally shot Thursday afternoon at the home of her mother, in Gainesville, a colored suburb. There are several versions as to how it occurred, but the girl's mother says she was handling the gun out in the yard when her brother came up and undertook to take the weapon away from her. The girl ran around the house and struck the hammer against the corner of the house, discharging the gun. The contents entered her left side, making a wound that caused death in a short while. Coroner Allensworth held an inquest and accepted the theory of accidental shooting.

10 BUSHELS

To The Acre Liberal Estimate
For Wheat Crop.

Several leading farmers have been spoken to as to the average yield of wheat in this county this year and the most liberal estimate places it at 10 bushels to the acre. Some are inclined to place it as low as eight bushels. From what they say wheat was straw this year.

Call First District Editors.

Cadiz, Ky., July 4.—The officers of the temporary Newspaper League, which was formed at the meeting of the Kentucky Press Association recently at Estill Springs, have called a meeting of the newspaper men of the First congressional district, to be held at the Palmer House, Paducah, Saturday, July 20, to effect a permanent organization.

NUMEROUS ORATIONS.

Picnic at the Asylum and Several Other Places
Near the City.

The annual picnic at the asylum was a more than usual delightful occasion to the largely crowd of visitors ever present at one of these celebrations. All of the inmates were given a barbecue dinner on tables in the grove and the officials and guests dined under the big sycamore trees near the entrance to the grounds. The Pembroke brass band made stirring music from time to time and added much to the pleasure. After dinner was over—and it was as fine a meal as a hungry crowd ever partook of—the band stand was used as a speaking stand and there were several patriotic addresses.

By invitation of Superintendent Stephens, Mayor Meacham presided and introduced the speakers. Those who spoke were Judge C. H. Bush, Hon. Herman Southall, Senator Frank Rives, Judge Walter Knight and Mr. John Feland.

The crowd dispersed at five o'clock with many thanks to Dr. Stephens and other officials for a most delightful day.

The Glorious Fourth.

Independence day, as oldest inhabitants are agreed, has not been so generally observed since the war as it was last Thursday. It is not presumed that people are not more patriotic, but they are beginning to learn that man was not made alone for business, but recreation is a necessity. Nearly every business house in the city was closed and Main and other streets had the appearance of Sunday. It really looked like the lid had been put on and screwed down for the day. Many citizens decorated their houses with the national colors and many ladies wore tiny flags pinned on their dresses.

Saddler's Grove.

The Western Kentucky Soldiers' Association had a very large crowd at Saddler's Grove. Rev. H. D. Smith delivered a well received oration. Misses Pearl White, Ruby White, Willie White, Eunice King and Walter King recited. James Breathitt, Jr., and Alvin Clark, of this city, were also on the program for orations. A general invitation had been extended, including Confederate veterans, and everybody enjoyed the day to the fullest.

At The Lake.

There was quite a crowd at the lake of the Water Company. Mr. L. Yonts was the speaker of the day, and by request gave a history of the formation of the Union of States. Barbecued mutton was among the many different meats served, together with the other good things usually furnished on such occasions.

The Tobacco Men.

The Tobacco Board of Trade had a barbecue and general jubilee at Campbell's Cave on the Fourth. It was one of those good times that the tobacco men know so well how to arrange for.

At Cedar Bluff.

T. S. Winfree and family, H. W. Breathitt and family, Dr. T. W. Blakey, Gus Breathitt and others, including the families of Judge Jas. Breathitt and Mr. J. W. Breathitt, enjoyed a picnic at Cedar Bluff, on Little River, near Jargis' bridge.

NOT ONE ARREST

Made By The Police on The Fourth.

The slate at police headquarters for Thursday was without a single entry. It's the unexpected that always happens. Everybody kept sober and orderly on the day that the bibulosity inclined and the trouble hunter might be expected to be in evidence. The fourth was certainly a record-breaker.

Canned Vegetables.

The Hopkinsville Canning Co. will, we understand, put up more vegetables this year than last. W. R. Brumfield, at his vegetable farm, will put up 25,000 cans. He has been hauling cans and crates from the railroad station for several days.

TWO GAMES.

The Fourth.

The game of ball at Dawson on the 4th between Company D and the Dawson team, was called at the end of the seventh inning in order that the home boys might catch the train. The score stood 7 to 6 in favor of the soldier boys.

The game here Wednesday between the Nashville Boosters' team and Company D resulted in a victory for the visitors.

ONLY ONE.

The Record in Hopkinsville
Is a Unique One.

If the reader has a "bad back" or any kidney ail and is looking for relief and cure, better depend on the only remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve quickly—cure permanently. Hopkinsville citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it:

J. W. Pritchett, 752 E. Seventh Street, Hopkinsville, Ky., says: "Four years ago Doan's Kidney Pills which I procured at L. A. Johnson & Co's. drug store brought me such great relief that I was glad to tell the people of Hopkinsville my experience with the remedy. Before using them, pains existed through my kidneys and in the back, which caused me a great deal of annoyance. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised so highly that I concluded to try them. They proved to be an excellent remedy, relieving me of the aching in my back and helping me in other ways. I have great faith in Doan's Kidney Pills, and I am sure if people who have kidney trouble will use them according to directions they will be satisfied with the results obtained."

Soundness of Judgment.

The Courier-Journal of last Saturday had the following editorial on the purchase of a new home for the Kentucky State Fair:

"In the selection of Douglas Park as the permanent State Fair grounds, the State Board of Agriculture has acted with a soundness of judgment that will be appreciated by those most familiar with the difficulties and conditions that confronted it. A dozen sites were considered by the Board, but most of them were thought to be inconveniently located, while Douglas Park already has ample street car facilities for handling as many people as might desire to attend the fair. It is estimated that the selection of unimproved property would have made it necessary for the State Fair Commission to expend many thousands of dollars for temporary buildings for this year and next year. With a good trotting track, a handsome grand stand, plenty of stable room and adequate street car and railroad switching facilities at Douglas Park, and with the splendid agricultural and live stock resources of Kentucky, the State Fair (Commission is ready at the very beginning to compete with the most successful fairs in the States of the Central west.)"

A Few Left.

We still have left about 40 copies of MEACHAM'S CITY DIRECTORY of Hopkinsville for 1907, which will be sold while they last at $1 each. It has been eight years since the last directory was issued and the new one will have to be used for several years. Business men who have not supplied themselves, should act promptly if they want one.

DECORATED AMERICANS

Surely Americans cannot complain at the lack of honors which foreign countries and societies are bestowing upon citizens of the United States for noteworthy achievements and distinguishing services. And while there is no undignified eagerness on the part of Americans for medals and decorations, there is still a warranted pride in receiving such marks of distinction. The already long list of these who have been thus honored is growing apace, and if all whose names appear there were to form a society of decorated Americans it would start out with a membership far in excess of that with which most organizations begin.

Such a society would not be in much favor with intensely democratic Americans who have been wont to regard decorations almost in the category of bribes, but such feeling is surely without warrant and is growing less each year. Said Count Cassati on this point not long before he left America for Spain: "I have received 32 decorations, and can it be possible that according to the old notion I have been bribed 32 times? I have recommended the bestowal of many decorations, but they were given in recognition of favors rendered without a thought of a return. Indeed, I have many times during my life been very glad that I could make use of such orders. Men have done me very kind and substantial favors. I could not in honor offer them $100 or $500. They would have been insulted by such a crude form of gratitude. The only recourse at my command was to give a decoration or a gold snuffbox. The latter the recipient would never use and could find little pleasure in, so I have chosen to give the decorations where I could."

Congress has but twice in 20 years given its consent for officers of the government to accept decorations that have been tendered them. Furthermore, it is the law that all decorations that foreign governments may wish to give to American officials must be deposited with the State Department until the question whether they may be accepted or not is decided.

Thus it is that there is a beautiful order in gold of Grand Officer of the Legion of Honor lying in the vaults of the state department for Gen. Chaffee. Some time congress may allow him to receive it. The time may come when, as with Admiral McCalla last March, he lies on what his fearful family or dearest friends think is his deathbed. Or it may happen that even then the desired permission will be withheld, and only after the brave old soldier is dead and gone will the decoration pass to the hands of his wife and children, to whom it will be a treasured testimony to the worth of the man whom it was intended to honor. And yet if the order were to be allowed to be given to Gen. Chaffee he could not wear it as other men wear them on public occasions. No officer of the army or navy nor any civil employee of the government is permitted by law to wear such an emblem of favor with a foreign potentate. This applies to the retired officer as well as those in active service.

Once in a long while an official has a chance to get a decoration by what is at least a pardonable evasion of the law. Secretary H. H. D. Pierce last year, when he resigned his post of assistant secretary of the state department to accept the appointment as minister to Norway, spent a day in private life between the two positions, and in that choice interval took good care to call for his decorations, which had for years, in some cases, laid in the vaults of the department. Among them were the Order of the Double Dragon, conferred by the Chinese government, and the cross of a commander of the Legion of Honor.

In the same way William F. Willoughby, formerly expert of the bureau of labor, and lecturer on social economics at Johns Hopkins and Harvard, stepped out of government employ a few days before accepting his appointment as treasurer of Porto Rico, and in that time got his medals out of of his pocket.

The number of legionnaires in this country has so increased in years that the fact has justified Prof. James Howard Gore, of George Washington university in preparing and publishing a directory of all who have received this honor.

The French statutes restrict the number of officers of the Legion of Honor to 4,000, of commanders to 1,000, of grand officers to 200, and of holders of the grand cross to 80. Gen. Chaffee has received probably the highest honor in the Legion of Honor in this country. Archbishop Ireland, Thomas A. Edison, Gen. O. O. Howard, Prof. George F. Barker and Perry Belmont wear the cross of a commander. Prof. Agassiz, Prof. Alexander Graham Bell, Andrew D. White, Prof. Simon Newcomb, James Hays Hyde, M. E. Stone and Prof. Gore hold the cross of officer.

Among women in this country who have had the distinction of wearing the cross of the Legion of Honor is Mrs. Potter Palmer, of Chicago, and Mrs. Daniel Manning, of Albany, who were thus honored for their services in connection with the exposition of 1890.

Among other orders given to Americans there are numerous decorations, such as the Order of Leopold, the Omani and Medjidi of Turkey, the order of the Prussian Crown, the Red Eagle of Germany, the order of St. Stanislaus of Russia, the White Elephant of Siam, the order of Dannebrog of Denmark, and many similar decorations.

Probably F. J. V. Skiff, of the Field Museum, of Chicago, has as many decorations as any one man in this country. He has made a collection. It might be said. They all came for his services at expositions. Mr. Skiff is an officer of the Legion of Honor for work connected with the Paris exposition of 1900. He has the order of Leopold, the order of Civil Merit of Bulgaria, has the second class order of the Order of the Dragon of China, the order of the Sacred Treasure of Japan, the order of Orange and Nassau of Holland, the order of the Sun and the Lion of Persia, the order of St. James of Portugal, and the Red Eagle of Germany.

Prof. Herman V. Hilprecht has numerous orders for his researches in ancient history. He wears the Cross of Albert, the Bear of Germany, the Cross of Dannebrog of Denmark, for his counsel investigations.

Prof. Simon Newcomb received last year the German Order pour le Merite. This is a distinctly great honor, as there are but 40 members of the order, and a new member is chosen by the survivors whenever death makes a vacancy. The decoration is given by the German emperor. Congress authorized Prof. Newcomb, who is a retired naval officer, to accept the decoration.

One of the rarest decorations that have ever been tendered an American is the Star of Ethiopia, given by King Menelik to Robert P. Shuman, who was intrusted with the delicate mission of opening up treaty relations with Abyssinia. It is a large gold medal surrounded by a gold star with a fine, large turquoise in the center. A smaller but quite valuable gold decoration was also given to Capt. George F. Thorpe, of the marine corps, by King Menelik.

Longer on Throne Than Father. King Frederick, of Denmark, presents the curious spectacle of a father who has become a king at a later date than his own son. When King Haakon, of Norway, was lately at Copenhagen King Frederick said to have asked him: "How do you like being king?" "I will rather ask you," replied Haakon. "I have been king longer than you have." Haakon was elected king of Norway by the storting on Nov. 18, 1895, while Frederick, his father, did not succeed to the throne of Denmark until Jan. 29, 1906, on the death of King Christian.

Replying to your favor of the 14th instant, I unhesitatingly advise all consumers of coal to lay in a supply during the summer months and thereby avoid the inconvenience which must result on account of a shortage of cars next winter which in my opinion will be much more acute than was the shortage of last winter, unless the consumers lay in their coal supply as suggested.

The railroad and coal operating officials of Western Kentucky have given out the same official notice, and urge us to advise our stockholders, and customers to lay in their coal this summer.

Last winter's experience and high prices, together with the above timely information should be sufficient warning, and we trust our people will take advantage of it and act at once.

We are ready to supply you with coal in car load lots over either R. R. any day "the best coverage at summer time prices," and trust that you will give us your orders early while we can get the cars to ship in.

For the MODISH WOMAN

American women have much to learn from their sisters in Paris as to the art of wearing tailor-made gowns, for it is certain that no women in the world equal the Parisiennes in this difficult art. Nature has made them exceedingly careful of details, and this in every walk of life, and from early youth they are taught to regard dress as an affair of paramount importance. To a Parisienne it is a matter of vital importance that the dainty little purse carried in the hand should harmonize with some other detail—with the sporting-looking little necktie, perhaps, or with the embroidered waistcoat of pale-hued suede. Everything has its own meaning and nothing is too small to lack importance. It is natural to Frenchwomen to look at the subject from this point of view and this is why they can—when they wish to do so—dress perfectly on a comparatively small income.

A peculiarity of the Parisian evening gowns this season is the close resemblance which they bear to tea-gowns. There is the same graceful flow of supple material and the same vague outline. The Parisiennes revel in this particular mode and invest it with exceeding charm and grace. They never permit their picture gowns to threaten to become universal includes a three-quarter coat of the simplest style in combination with a short skirt, both being made of black and white striped coarse flannel material of homespun description. Such a costume is suitable, however, only for most work-a-day occasions, and lends itself to be crowned only by straw hats trimmed with ribbons and wings or rosettes of silk, and will no doubt look its very best when worn with a white batiste or lawn shirt and permitted to take its walks in the country. Black and white check appears in every size and form; smooth of face and smooth of face, it also finds devotees, and an easy means of answering the question of what to wear at the immediate moment in the morning can be settled by a skirt of black and white check, a small coat of whatever shape that may best please and best suit you, with a white waistcoat embroidered with black braid and fastened with white pearl buttons, and a white lawn frilled shirt, crowned with a green straw hat trimmed with green rosettes, and a shawl of green spotted veil thrown over the crown, to fall just to the nape of the neck. The veil must be short if the dress be short, the veil long if the dress be long. Here lies one of the

to look in the least like robes de chambre, and in this they display much cleverness, for a semi-loose robe has a tiresome way of looking bed-roomy unless worn with great discretion.

The picture styles which are making themselves so strongly felt in the world of fashion this year are especially prominent where evening dresses are concerned, not that much regard to gowns for dinners of ceremony as for those to be worn at bridge parties and receptions amongst intimate friends. A leading feature of the new bridge gowns is the hanging sleeve, which can hardly be called "angel," but which is of that order. This sleeve almost invariably falls back from the elbow, leaving the lower part of the arm quite bare. From elbow to shoulder it is often nearly tight, but the real picture sleeve falls in graceful folds all the way down.

Lace of every sort is as fashionable as ever, if not more so. You may see thick guipure doing duty on the costume to bed in our large illustration. The bodice is of lace, while braces and trimmings to the full sleeves are of taffeta, fringes decorating the sash ends, which are held with enamel buttons at the waist, and the plain full skirt is of voile. The other dress shows cinnamon brown cloth in combination with black and white striped silk, small bands of Irish lace being used to trim the bodice, the hat being of brown with brown shaded roses in clusters on either side.

Roses have taken into themselves every conceivable tone, the most fashionable being, of course, blue, and these are usually allied to black centers and accompanied by black sleeves, a wreath of the latter appearing with considerable success round the base of the crown of an open-brimmed crinoline straw hat.

But to turn to dresses of the commoner sort and of the greater utility. All combinations of black and white are prominent, and a mode which rules not to be forgotten by those who realize the advantage of graceful proportions. And again I remember that this special virtue may be accredited to the short-waisted dress, so that the lines of the waist be chosen with special care.

CHURCHILL'S MAIDEN EFFORT.

First Speech in Parliament Hit the Mark in Spite of Faults of Delivery.

The first time I noticed Lord Randolph Churchill in the house of commons was on a May day in 1875, says a writer in Blackwood's Magazine. Sir Charles Dilke had been making merry at the expense of Woodstock, then represented by one known in the Parliamentary arena simply as a cadet of the ducal house of Marlborough.

From the third bench behind that on which ministers ought to have been sitting, rose a well-groomed young man, with protuberant eyes, pale face and a ponderous mustache, with which as he spoke he nervously toyed.

Members asking each other: "Who's this?" learned that it was the member for Woodstock rising to defend the corporation of the borough that sent him to parliament.

Though assisted by notes, on which the speech was fully written out, the young member was so nervous, his voice was hoarse, his delivery so faulty that there was difficulty in following his argument. But here and there flashed forth a scathing sentence that made it worth while to attempt to catch the rest. When he sat down Lord Randolph had made his mark, had established himself as a personality in an assembly in which within ten years he was predominant.

The Genuine Test.

"Do you believe that man is a real mystical entity?" "Of course he is. Does anybody ever know what he is talking about?"—Baltimore American.

The Weather.

FOR KENTUCKY—Partly cloudy
Saturday.

The fate of the Democratic party in Kentucky is to be decided by the cast of the die in Louisville. To overthrow a party machine, organized and entrenched in every precinct, and build up a new machine in a hundred days with church people instead of politicians at the helm, is a big undertaking. If the "good people" in all parties help the reform movement, it will succeed, but if the Republicans slip into the Democratic breach and one faction throws its strength to them, it will mean a terrible disaster and defeat.
The hesitation in making further appointments in Louisville indicates that the new mayor appreciates the gravity of the situation and will "go slow" and be sure he is right before he goes ahead. It must be borne in mind that it is the Democratic party that must be relied upon to elect the state ticket and not bolters and dis-organizers. There are already loud claims being made by Republicans that the entire whiskey vote will be thrown to Wilson and that the Prohibition Republicans will also vote their ticket and give Wilson 20,000 majority in Louisville. Mayor Bingham should remember the story of the wooden horse and the destruction of ancient Troy.

Soldiers of the First Kentucky Regiment and a South Carolina Regiment in camp at Jamestown undertook to paint the "warpath" red Wednesday night and a fight ensued with the Powhattan Guards.
Several on both sides were hurt, but none fatally. The soldiers undertook to make a raid of the shows without paying.

Francis Murphy, the great temperance lecturer, died at Los Angeles,
last week and during his funeral services, every saloon in the city, closed out of respect to his memory.

It is authoritatively stated in a dispatch from Henderson that Congressman A. O. Stanley will be a candidate for a fourth term. The Second district at last seems to be coming around to a policy that other districts have followed for many years. Now that we have found the right kind of a man, young, able and eloquent, why not keep him in Congress and develop him into a national leader.

Secretary of the Navy Metcalf announced officially that the United States will send a fleet of 20 battle ships to the Pacific Coast next winter,
the trip being made around Cape Horn. He says the trip is merely a practice cruise and denies that the Japanese troubles have anything to do with the proposed movement. The fleet will winter in the San Francisco harbor.

Buffalo, N. Y., is going to have a home coming week and all former residents of Buffalo are requested to send their addresses to Jas. W.
Greene, 206 White Building, Buffalo, in order that they may receive sovereign invitations to the celebration
Sept. 1 to 7.

Whatever else may be said of Mayor Schmitz, of San Francisco, he certainly does not lack nerve. He is in jail, awaiting a sentence for grafting, but announces that he will be a candidate for a fourth term and seek a vindication.

Decendants of the signers of the Declaration of Independence held a reunion at the Jamestown Exposition. Gov. Charles E. Hughes of New York and President Woodrow Wilson, of Princeton University, were the principal speakers.

A Correction.

The article in the Hopkinsville Independent, in which it was stated that I would close out my business here and return to Virginia, was pretense and misleading. I have not taken any steps to leave Hopkinsville, have not sold my home, nor my business, neither am I closing out my business. The Independent had no authority to make the assertion in their paper of July 3. I have, however, been contemplating the sale of my home and my business, because of greater opportunities offered in business, both in Hopkinsville and elsewhere. We have had a good business here, but on account of my extended experience in the wholesale business, I feel my individual services are worth more in that capacity than in the retail business.

Bad Start.

The police force was kept busy
the first and second days of July, securing 11 runs. Three offenders reached the home plate for adultery,
three more scored for fornication,
two were unable to run on account of being drunk, two made home runs for breach of the peace, while one was held up for trying to drive round the diamond faster than the rules allow. Result of game: All the players fined in sums varying from $6 to $22.50. The defeated team contended that the officers were too fast for them and have sworn off from playing the blue-coats any more. Some of them paid their fines while others will do work for the city. Umpire Roper is giving perfect of his not holding the visitors down to the rules. His assistants are in splendid shape for July and are determined that they will not countenance any "foolishness" during this month.

United States Circuit Court of Appeals Decides Against

FLAT TOLL RATE FIXED.

Says No Federal Question is Involved in Case Against City of Louisville.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 3.—The application of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Company for an injunction to prevent the city of Louisville from establishing a flat rate for tolls was dismissed by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals to-day. It was held that no
Federal question was involved.

The General Council of Louisville passed an ordinance fixing all telephone rates at the same rate as was fixed in the franchise granted to the Home Telephone Company, so that the Home Company was not affected by the ordinance. The reduction was about one-third off the present rate. The Cumberland Telephone Company filed suit in Judge Evans' court to prevent a reduction of rates. Judge Evans, over the demurrer of Judge
E. A. Richards, City Attorney, held that the Federal Court had jurisdiction, overruled the demurrer and granted a temporary injunction. Judge Richards appealed to the United States Court of appeals and its decision is a victory for the city.
The Cumberland Company will now probably seek to enjoin the city from enforcing the ordinance
through the State Courts.

WHITE OR COLORED LABOR

Existing Conditions Demand A Change and Soon

STATE MOVEMENT

Farmers and Others Should Begin to Think at Once.

Now that the handling of tobacco in the different establishments is over, the laboring class, male and female, are looking around for work in the city. They can get plenty to do in the country, but they have a hankering for "metropolitan life." The allurements are too much for them, and they had rather live in town and make half of what they could on the farms than be deprived of the privilege of taking in the different attractions, whatever they may be. Hopkinsville is quite a city to them—what Louisville is to a Hopkintonian, or New York to a Louisville. What they would do if it were not for the tobacco factories and other businesses in the city, that give them employment, is beyond the knowledge of any one. True it is that white people cannot stand to do some of the work the colored people are doing—the labor of the quarry and the heat and odor of the tobacco house, for instance. But the labor of the quarry is a little too much for them the year through, for some of the negroes, and they go to the tobacco handling houses.

The immigration bureau is to send a man to Switzerland to get some of the industrious people to come to this state. There are certain kinds of work that the foreigners could do with satisfaction to our farmers, but they could not, and would not try, to take the negroes' place in the tobacco houses. The work to be done in establishments like those of the Imperial Tobacco Co., the American Snuff Co., Tandy and Fairleigh and others, can only be endured by the negro. Like the cotton fields of the South, the work is the negroes' by a decree of nature.

Christian county needs white labor for the simple reason that the colored people will not work more than they can possibly avoid, and when they do work it must be light or they won't tangle it for any length of time. Of course there are some who are faithful and economical, but as a mass it is well known that they are improvident and prone to idleness, the younger generation particularly. We simply are stating facts and do not see things through the eyes of prejudice. If you want to prove that we are wrong, start out to find a cook or washwoman or employ some man to do a few days' work. You will soon be convinced that we are correct.

Such being a true statement of the labor situation in the city, and equally as bad in the country, and now that there is a prospect of improving the labor situation through the immigration bureau of the state, it will soon be up to our farmers, as well as the people in the city, to take the proper course to introduce some of the imported labor in this section of Kentucky. If the people neglect this they may lose the golden opportunity of helping themselves.

Everybody admits that there must be a change, and that right soon. We do not want to be accused of wanting to arouse ill feeling between the races—we would much rather see the colored race knuckle down to work and make more than a mere subsistence. In fact, we believe anybody would rather have a working, economical colored people, who have grown up in our midst and understand us—than imported, inexperienced labor, who would have to have two or three years in which to learn our ways and methods of doing things. They might be preferable in the long run, but it is questionable. But the situation is narrowed down to one of two things—more industry on the part of colored people or eventually the importation of white labor. Which will it be?

COMPANY D

Will Leave Monday Night
For Jamestown, 51
Strong.

Everything in Fine Shape
for a Week In Camp.

Next Monday night Company D., under command of Capt. E. W. Clark, will leave for Jamestown. The personnel of the company is of the very best material in the city. For three or four weeks nightly drills have been held and the soldier boys are as near perfect in the manual of arms and evolutions as soldiers get to be, and there is a feeling prevalent that our boys will come home with flying colors.

The company numbers 51, which the limit. They will carry with them 2 cooks and are anticipating the best time of their lives. The commissioned officers of the company are: Capt. E. W. Clark; 1st Lieut., Stanley Bassett; 2d Lieut., Hardy Hadden. Col. Jonett Henry and staff and Maj. E. B. Bassett and staff will go on the same train with Company D.

Capt. Clark last year, at the Henderson encampment, took the prize as the best rifle shot. It is not yet known whether any prizes will be offered for anything at Jamestown. If there is Co. D. is liable to take the lion's share. The bright young fellows, who compose the company will certainly be "Johnny on the spot" for anything that may come up, for the boys are all ambitious and will be reaching out for "for any old thing" of interest or anything new that may bob up. Capt. Clark says he will take out of Hopkinsville the most thoroughly drilled and in every way best equipped company that has ever left Hopkinsville.

Every body wishes the soldiers a glorious time during the seven days in camp and expects to hear a magnificent report of them.

KENTUCKY HEIRS

The Kentucky Lawyer, Retained to Press Their Interests.

Lexington, Ky., July 5.—Capt. C. C. Calhoun, the Kentucky lawyer who has been so successful in collecting claims of the state against the Federal Government, has been retained by the Kentucky heirs of the famous Baron Springer estate and all the documents pertaining to the case will be turned over to him. It is proposed to hold a meeting some time soon of all of the heirs who can be brought together, and energetic plans will be put on foot to secure the fortune, which is estimated at $88,000,000.

Baron Springer came from Sweden over a century ago and was given a large land grant on part of which now stands the city of Wilmington, Del. He divided up this land and disposed of it under ninety-nine years leases. Baron Springer died many years ago, and these leases have expired. The heirs propose now to recover these lands or to secure indemnity for their use. Among the heirs in Lexington are Mrs. W. R. Frazier, Mrs. Alvin C. Goode, Harry Jones, Miss Hetty Jones and Mrs. W. C. Moore. Other heirs are Miss Ella Miller, of Stanford, and Mrs. Kate Springer, of Harrodsburg.

NOTHING GAINED BY LYING

Maarten Maartens, Dutch Novelist, Illustrates Point by an Amusing Anecdote.

Maarten Maartens, the Dutch novelist, was talking at a magazine office about realistic fiction, as if "if realism is truth," he said, "then I am for it. In books, as in life, the truth is always best. Lies fail. Lies fail in books as they fail in life. I know a woman who intensely desired to have a good photograph taken of her little son. But in the studio the child bawled as though he were going to be tortured. It was impossible to calm him, impossible to keep him in the chair. For an hour he filled the place with his howls and yells. For an hour he tore up and down the room like an imp."

"Sure, darling," said his mother, "the gentleman isn't going to hurt you. Just smile and keep still a moment, and it will be all over before you know it."

"Yes," roared the youngster. "Yes, I know. That's what you told me at the dentist's."

MELBA'S BEGINNING.

During the years immediately preceding my first and, for me, my most memorable visit to Europe, the late Marquis of Normandy was governor of Victoria. At that time I was regarded in Melbourne as a very good amateur pianist, much in request at private parties, at which I always played, and on very rare occasions also sang. At one of these functions, given at government house, I gave some songs between the pianoforte selections, and the Marchioness of Normandy, in thanking me, said, "Child, some day you will give up the piano for singing, and then you will become famous." That was the simple comment that set me seriously thinking of a career as a singer. I had always felt that I would become a professional in music—pianist, organist, violinist, perhaps, but something in music, at any rate; but from that moment I knew in an irresistible way that I was to be a singer.—Century.

BEST RECREATION.

To some the most restful kind of relaxation is to turn from one form of mental or physical activity to another, bringing into play a new set of faculties or muscles. The man who has spent his working day over law books or ledgers will take up with delight the classics or some branch of natural history or will enter upon the study of languages or literature. There is no doubt that the highest form of recreation is found in such ways, because while they furnish rest and refreshment they at the same time widen one's intellectual range and promote growth in new directions.

MANY CENTENARIANS.

In the German empire, with a population of 55,000,000, there are only 78 persons who are more than 100 years old. In France, with a population of less than 40,000,000, there are 213 persons who have passed their hundredth birthday. Switzerland has no centenarian. Spain, with a population of about 18,000,000, has 410. Serbia had 573 persons who are more than 100 years of age, while Rumania has 1,084 and Bulgaria 3,883. Bulgaria holds the record for old age, having a centenarian for every 100 of its inhabitants.

EXPERIMENTAL.

"Won't you come in for a few minutes?"
"Your dog won't bite me, will he?"
"That's what I want to find out. I got him only yesterday."

MEAN THING TO SAY.

The Cynic—What are you thinking of, Mary?
Mary—I am dreaming of my youth.
The Cynic—I thought you had a faraway look in your eyes.—Stray Stories.

SAD RAVAGES OF TIME

Circus Man Tells of Remarkable Circumstance in Connection with Accident.

"The late Gov. Higgins," said a New York man, "was talking today one Memorial day, about time's ravages among the poor old veterans of the civil war. All of a sudden he smiled quietly. He said he was reminded of a thing that happened once in Stanton, the Michigan town where he was in business for some years. He wished that this thing would apply slightly to our veterans, but it wouldn't."

"A circus man told him the story. The man visited Stanton in its early days, and in the midst of his performance a storm arose, the greatest we have known over and 30 people were injured."

"Well, 30 years afterward," said the circus man, "I returned to Stanton with my show. I remembered the accident that had attended my former visit, and I announced that all who had been injured by the fall of the tent would be admitted to the first performance free."

"But alas for time's ravages," the circus man ended, "of all those 30 injured, only 270 had survived."

IGNORANT OF INITIALS.

"One of the strangest things to me about women," said a student of the eternal feminine "is the way women may be associated with one another in church work or clubs and not know each other's initials. I have known church workers who have seen one another every week for years and years who are absolutely ignorant of whether Mrs. Smith is Mrs. A. B., or C. Smith, or whether Miss Jones' first name is Maria or Daisy. Sometimes they say, 'Why, Mrs. Smith is the Mrs. Smith whose husband is a banker, you know,' but they have no knowledge of the banker's initials. I have run across cases where some club members knew only the last name of their club president, and they didn't think it at all necessary that they should know their initials. Men who are together three days soon find out one another's initials, but women seem to think seeking such knowledge savors of unfriendliness."

WANDERING LAKE IN ASIA.

There are several "floating" islands in existence well known to scientists, but the only "wandering" lake ever heard of is Lake Nor, in the Gobi desert, in Asia, which phenomenon was recently accounted for by the fact that the Tarim river, entering the lake from the west, brings down during the period of high water late in summer a great quantity of silt, which has the effect of driving the lake, lying on the level floor of the desert, toward the south-east. But the summer wind, drifting the surface sand and darkening the heavens with dust, blows generally from the northeast, and it too, tends to drive the lake before it. The combined effect of the urging by the wind and the river is to force the lake southward.

TOO PRONOUNCED A SUCCESS.

"I met Erminie yesterday, and she was awfully melancholy," remarked Edith. "You know she's the girl who married young Wildley to reform him."

"Did she succeed?" inquired Ethel.

"O, she reformed him all right," replied Edith. "That's why she was melancholy. She thinks he is the most tiresome and uninteresting thing in the world."

HIS ONLY "HAUNT."

Miss Mattie Nay—In your varied theatrical experience I suppose you've seen life in all the big cities. Now, what is your favorite haunt? "Hi, Tragically—Well—er—your 'haunts' are not my specialty, although once I did play the ghost in 'Hamlet.'"

A SLAP BACK.

"So," said Dr. Kadley, "you're not of these catapots, eh?"
"I am, sir," replied Dr. New.
"Ah! and you recommend people to throw physic to the dogs, eh?"
"No, indeed, I'm very fond of dogs."

WHY HE DECLINED.

Wareham Long—W'y wuzn't ye at dat banquet?
Tudford Kautz—Caz dey wanted me to go as a hobo, an' I ain't no hobo, by gum! I'm travelin' sociologist.

Glad to make the correction and hope next year's business will pan out better for all of our stock raisers.

WIN SUCCESS IN NURSING

The Best Paying Occupation—Free Scholarships.

Nursing the sick is perhaps the most attractive field for the ambitious woman who would win success and make the most of life. It is a refined occupation. It gives skill to the hand and grace to the heart. It is the best paying occupation now open to women, and presents an ever-widening field of opportunity. The call for nurses is a world-wide call. It is the one calling which is not over-crowded.
